Handwritten text on a fragment of parchment, likely a page from a manuscript. The text is written in a cursive script and is oriented vertically. The parchment is heavily stained and has a large hole near the center. The text is mostly illegible due to the damage and the angle of the fragment. There are two diagrams of a 3x3 grid (magic square) on the page, one in the top right and one in the bottom right. The top right diagram has numbers 1 through 9 in its cells. The bottom right diagram has numbers 1 through 9 in its cells, with some numbers appearing to be written in a different color or ink. There is a circular stamp on the left side of the fragment, which is partially obscured by the hole and the staining. The stamp contains the text 'UNIVERSITÄT SACHSEN-ANHALT' and 'MAG. DR. H. W. ...'.
