Handwritten text in a medieval script, likely Gothic or similar, on aged parchment. The text is arranged in several lines, with some lines starting with large, decorated initials. The script is dense and characteristic of the late Middle Ages. There are two large, ornate initials on the right side of the page, one at the top and one at the bottom, both featuring intricate floral and geometric patterns. The parchment shows signs of age, including discoloration and a small hole near the center.

Marginal note in a later hand, possibly 15th or 16th century, written in a cursive script. The text is written in dark ink and appears to be a reference or a note related to the main text. The note is written in a cursive script that is more legible than the main text.
