

111

Handwritten text in a medieval script, likely Latin or German, covering the top half of the page. The text is dense and appears to be a formal document or legal record.

Wort 3. 111

Continuation of handwritten text, showing some signs of wear and fading. The script remains consistent with the top section.

Wort 3. 111

Main body of handwritten text, consisting of several paragraphs. The text is written in a cursive medieval hand and covers most of the page's surface.

Wort 3. 111

