

Handwritten text in a medieval script, likely Latin, on aged parchment. The text is arranged in approximately 15 horizontal lines. A large, irregular white hole is present in the upper left quadrant, obscuring several lines of text. The parchment shows signs of age, including discoloration and some staining. At the bottom left, there is a circular red stamp with a central emblem and text around the border. To the right of the stamp, there are some faint markings and a small diagram or sketch of a structure with vertical lines and a curved top. The overall appearance is that of an old, damaged manuscript page.

Maria
3 [530]

