

Handwritten text in a dense, cursive script, likely a historical document or manuscript. The text is written in a dark ink on aged, yellowed paper. There are several large, dark ink blotches or redactions covering parts of the text, particularly in the middle and lower right sections. The handwriting is very compact and difficult to decipher without specialized knowledge of the script.

Handwritten text at the bottom of the page, possibly a signature or a concluding note. It is written in the same cursive script as the main body of the document. There are some faint markings and a small diagram or signature on the left side of this section.

Moricio 5 (5)

13. 11. 18. 18. 18.

Fragment of a handwritten manuscript on aged parchment, featuring dense Latin text in a Gothic script. The parchment is heavily damaged, with several large holes and significant staining, particularly along the central fold and the bottom edge. The text is arranged in two columns, with some lines appearing to be part of a larger section or a specific entry. The ink is dark brown, and the parchment has a yellowish-brown hue.

Fragment 2 (2)
