

Handwritten text in a medieval script, likely Latin or German, covering the majority of the page. The text is dense and appears to be a formal document or record.

Handwritten text at the bottom of the main body, possibly a signature or a concluding phrase.

Mariae E (SE)

Additional handwritten text at the very bottom of the page, possibly a later addition or a separate note.

