

Handwritten text in a historical script, likely Latin or German, covering the majority of the page. The text is dense and appears to be a formal document or record.

Handwritten text at the bottom left of the page, possibly a signature or a date.

