Main body of handwritten text in a historical script, likely Gothic or similar, covering most of the page. The text is dense and appears to be a formal document or record.

(80) P. 101

Hic dicitur quod... [The text is a dense Latin manuscript, likely a list or inventory, detailing various items and their locations. It begins with a large initial 'H' and continues with several paragraphs of text, mentioning names like 'Lafanchum' and 'Lafanchum de Argonibus'. The text is written in a medieval Gothic script and is partially obscured by damage to the parchment.]

Merlio 4 (80)

Hic dicitur quod... [This section contains a smaller block of text, possibly a continuation or a separate entry from the main text above. It also begins with a large initial 'H' and is written in the same medieval script.]
