

Handwritten Latin text, likely a legal or administrative document, covering the majority of the page. The text is dense and written in a cursive script typical of the late Middle Ages or early modern period. It appears to be a record of a transaction or a set of regulations, mentioning various parties and locations.

Sequitur de Capello de Regem barator apertum in fine ante diei Caroli de Regem et de Regem
Regem tradam scabi go Regem et de Regem subscipit

PI
Ere p... de...
...
...

Faint, illegible handwriting at the top of the page.

Marbit 32,4

1456 <sup>14</sup> / 11

