

Handwritten text in a historical script, likely a Latin manuscript, covering the majority of the page. The text is dense and appears to be a formal document or record.

Marginal note or signature, possibly reading "M. 188" or similar, written in a cursive hand.

