1152

Handwritten text in a Gothic script, likely a medieval manuscript. The text is written in a dense, cursive hand and covers most of the page. There are several large, irregular white holes or tears in the parchment, particularly in the upper and middle sections, which obscure some of the text. The ink is dark brown or black, and the parchment itself is aged and yellowish-brown.

(FOS) Haidram

Handwritten text at the bottom of the page, possibly a signature or a date. It is written in the same Gothic script as the main text and includes some decorative flourishes.
