

Handwritten Latin text in a dense, cursive script, likely a historical document or legal record. The text is written in brown ink on aged, slightly yellowed paper. It appears to be a formal document, possibly a charter or a record of a transaction, given the context of the library and the date. The script is highly decorative and difficult to read without specialized knowledge of the language and dialect.

Merkmal 31 (19)

Handwritten Latin text in a dense, cursive script, likely a papal bull or official decree. The text is written on aged, slightly yellowed paper and is partially obscured by a large, decorative floral border at the top. The script is highly legible but compact.

A second piece of aged paper, possibly a continuation or a separate document, featuring a large, ornate initial 'S' and the word 'viginti' written in a cursive hand. A small number '57' is visible in the top left corner of this section.
